The Bourbon Incubuss. Senator Vest, in his address at Hig ginsville Saturday, uttered the fo-

loning words: The Federal census for 1880 shows that in the decade ending with that year, the population of Missouri in-crea-ed 25 97 per cent, which in States and that the other States, in which the of like age the rate of increase was increase in wealth was marked and much less. Ohio increased 19.19 per rapid, in the same period, are all Recent. Indiana 17.71 per cent, and Illinois 21 18 per cent. This is true. Missouri did increase more rapidly in population than Ohio, Indiana or Illinois "in the decade ending with" 1880. The Globe Democrat has already pointed out that fact, and pretend that this Republicanism and enamerated the principal causes for this growth. It pointed out also, in a comparison made between the growth | by decad s, beginning with 1850, that bon oligarchy than these figures pregreater than that of Illinois in the twenty years ending with 1880. This journal, moreover, called attention to another fact, which Mr. Vest has probably overlooked, namely, that of the States of Missouri, Illinols, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconein. Missouri had the teast wealth per inhabitant in 1880, except the purely Hood's Sarsaparilla readly cures, as it agricultural and comparatively new and unsettled State of Kansas. The Signs of the Times. We have long held that Irishmen and

Catholics were just like other people, and would bear the same kind of treatment as other people. They may be more positive and set in their opinious, but it cannot be beaten out of them with clubs. For years, it was accepted as a fixed fact that an Irishman, or a Catholie, especially one of foreign birth, must naturally be a Democrat, and therefore they received no consideration, but were permitted to drift into the Demo cratic party, and perhaps made solid there by obuse and denunciation. Of tate years, this thing has changed. It is where! discovered that they are worth reason ing with and being treated just as other people are. For years, the Demoeratic party has claimed to be the only true triend of foreigners, and of the right of the Catholic Church to exist in America. This worked well enough, for purifying the blast, and times and is long as they could keep the prejudices of these people excited, and keep them in ignorance. It was their pracice to keep influential Irishmen and Germans in lucrative offices in the great cities, who made it their business to take charge of their countrymen, and drill them into the Democratic party. But their methods have lost their force. These people are also discovering that the Democratic party is a fraud, and less in size, and in a short time disappeared. has been urging them to act against their own interests. We have contained trid Street, Lewell, had their own interests, We have contended, and still contend, that Blame reerved an immense Irish Catholic vote, that had hitherto been Democratic. The accession of Irishmen to the Republican party has been steadily going on ever since, and in 1888, especially if Blaine is the candidate, he will make Sell a pretty fair division of that vote. A careful study of it will convince you, may boy, that the Bible is the book of all books. Throw it not aside, lad, for in it are truths and proverbs to be found nowhere else. Cling to it in sunshire and shadow, for you'll find it a friend than whom none are more comforting. Your mother read it, boy long years ago. She read it when a rosy cheeked girl; she read it more when a true wife and mother; she read took her. Through all her life she iked it, she praised it, and at death commended it unto you. Keep it, boy, France & Co., Forest City. and when glad and happy, sad and lonely, peruse it. eggs," is good advice. Old flour bar rels, unless carefully washed and dried will impart a musty flavor to the fruit before midwinter, especially if the air in the celler is moist. The first apple which are put in the market barrels should be "taced." The facing consists in placing two or three layers on the lower head with stems down; that is, with the stem pointing toward the head. Clean, bright apples of ordinary size should be selected for this purpose. The rest of the apples may be poured rate the barrel. This pour. ing, if properly done, will not injure the apple. Ezgs can be poured. Use a basket with a swinging hancle, one which can be lowered into the barrel and turned while there, and hold the apples back with the hand so that they will not pour out too rapidly. Two or three times during the filling shake the barrel gently to settle the apples firm. Face the upper head in the same tranner as the lower one, It is desirable not to head up the barrel at once, Cover with boards to keep out the rain, and let the barrel stand open four or five days, It is not, however, always possible to cover the barrels, in which case they may be headed up at once and turned down on their sides. This is a Great Country. The following facts are gratifying to every American citizen's national pride. The United States contains more English speaking people than all the republic exceeds that of Great Britain; and it also surpasses the mother country not only in agriculture but in manufactures. For every paper in the United States there are 28 in Rolland Belgium and six in Great Britain and Ireiand; seveneights of our peorle are native born; and 32 per cent of them now live in towns of 8,000 or more inhabitants. If the live stock in our country were marshaled in procession five abreast, in close order, the line would reach around the world and overlap. Cateago alone makes half as many steel rails in a year as Great Bratain, and Minneapolis tarns out so much dour that the barrels would form a bridge from New York to Ireland. We preduce sixteen pounds of butter annually for every man, woman and child in the country, and if our crop of cereals were loaded in earts, it would require all the horses in Europe, and a million more to move it. More yards of carpeting are manufactured in Philadelphia than in all Great Britanin. A single factory in Massachysetts turns out as many pairs of boots as 35,000 bootmakers in Paris, and our government has given us more land for support of schools and colleges than the entire area of England, Scotland and Ireland
